IBM Content Manager VideoCharger ™
for Multiplatforms Version 8 Release 2
Installation Reference Card for Windows NT/2000

Start

Does your system meet all VideoCharger requirements? — Yes →

No → See Chapter 0: "Planning for the VideoCharger Server on Windows: Requirements for the VideoCharger Server". → Install all required software.

Do you have License Use Management (LUM) software installed? — Yes →

No → See Chapter 10: "Installing VideoCharger on Windows". → Insert the VideoCharger for Windows CD-ROM and click the Install License Software button.

Choose the type of installation that you want to perform.
→ See Chapter 10: "Installing VideoCharger on Windows".

Silent installation → Insert the VideoCharger for Windows CD-ROM. At a command prompt on your machine, enter a msiexec.exe - I command. → See Chapter 10: "Installing VideoCharger on Windows: Silent installation"

Installation from CD-ROM launchpad → Insert the VideoCharger for Windows CD-ROM, click the Install Components button, select VideoCharger Server, and click the Install button. → See Chapter 10: "Installing VideoCharger on Windows: Installation from CD-ROM launchpad"

Administrative installation → Insert the VideoCharger for Windows CD-ROM. At a command prompt on your machine, enter a msiexec.exe -a command. → See Chapter 10: "Installing VideoCharger on Windows: Administrative installation"

Do you need to manually configure your Web server? — No →
Yes → See Chapter 11: "Initially configuring VideoCharger on Windows: Manually configuring the Web server". → Manually configure your Web server.

Do you need to configure for a firewall? — No →
Yes → See Chapter 11: "Initially configuring VideoCharger on Windows: Configuring for a firewall". → Configure VideoCharger for a firewall.

Do you plan to multicast from Windows 2000? — No →
Yes → See Chapter 11: "Initially configuring VideoCharger on Windows: Configuring Windows 2000 for multicast". → Configure Windows 2000 for multicast.

Do you want to make the VideoCharger home page your home page? — No →
Yes → See Chapter 11: "Initially configuring VideoCharger on Windows: Making the VideoCharger home page your home page". → Make the VideoCharger home page your home page.

See Chapter 11: "Initially configuring VideoCharger on Windows: Changing the administration user ID or password" → Change your VideoCharger administration password.

See Chapter 11: "Initially configuring VideoCharger for Windows: Testing your VideoCharger system"
→ Test your VideoCharger system.

Did your system test successfully? — Yes →
No → See Chapter 12: "Troubleshooting VideoCharger on Windows". → Troubleshoot VideoCharger.

Do you plan to integrate the AIX Multimedia Archive with VideoCharger? — No →
Yes → See Chapter 14: "Integrating the VideoCharger AIX Multimedia Archive". → Install the Media-Defined and Video-Archive bundles on the AIX machine that meets the requirements.

Do you plan to integrate VideoCharger in a Tivoli ® environment? — No →
Yes → See Chapter 18: "Integrating VideoCharger in a Tivoli environment". → Set up the Tivoli resource models.

Do you plan to use the VideoCharger Extender for DB2 Universal Database? — No →
Yes → See Chapter 17: "Integrating the VideoCharger Extender for DB2 Universal Database". → Install the VideoCharger Extender from the installation launchpad to your DB2 machine, and enable the Extender.

Do you plan to integrate the VideoCharger Server with Content Manager? — No →
Yes → See Chapter 16: "Integrating Content Manager Version 8.1 with VideoCharger". → Use the Content Manager system administration client to add the VideoCharger Server to a resource manager.

Do you plan to integrate the AIX Multimedia Archive with Content Manager? — No →
Yes → See Chapter 16: "Integrating Content Manager Version 8.1 with VideoCharger". → Use the Content Manager system administration client to add the Multimedia Archive to a resource manager.

Finish

Key
- Milestone & Decision Point
- User action
- Planning and Installing Enterprise Information Portal

CQ04CNA

IBM Content Manager VideoCharger ™
for Multiplatforms Version 8 Release 2
Installation Reference Card for AIX

Start

Decide the type of configuration that meets your needs.

Does your system meet all VideoCharger requirements? — Yes / No

Did you decide to install the presentation formatter and controller on separate machines? — Yes

Install the Media-Defined and Video-Server-All bundles.

Do you want to add more data pumps? — Yes / No

Do you want to register VideoCharger? — Yes / No

See Chapter 6: "Initially configuring VideoCharger on AIX: Configuring the VideoCharger components"

Initially configure your VideoCharger system.

Do you need to configure for a firewall? — Yes / No

See Chapter 6: "Initially configuring VideoCharger on AIX: Testing your VideoCharger system"

Test your VideoCharger system.

Did your system test successfully? — No / Yes

Do you need to set up translated VideoCharger man pages, Web pages, or publications? — Yes / No

Do you plan to integrate the AIX Multimedia Archive with VideoCharger? — Yes / No

Do you plan to integrate VideoCharger in a Tivoli ® environment ? — Yes / No

Do you plan to use the VideoCharger Server with Content Manager ? — Yes / No

Do you plan to integrate the VideoCharger Server with Content Manager ? — Yes / No

Do you plan to integrate the AIX Multimedia Archive with Content Manager? — No / Yes

Finish

See Chapter 3: "Planning for the VideoCharger Server on AIX: Deciding the best VideoCharger Server configuration"

See Chapter 3: "Planning for the VideoCharger Server on AIX: Requirements for the VideoCharger Server"

Install all required software.

See Chapter 4: "Installing VideoCharger on AIX: Installing the VideoCharger bundles"

Install the Media-Defined and Video-Pres-Formatter bundles on the appropriate AIX machine.

See Chapter 4: "Installing VideoCharger on AIX: Installing the VideoCharger bundles"

Install the Media-Defined and Video-Controller bundles on the appropriate AIX machine.

See Chapter 4: "Installing VideoCharger on AIX: Adding more data pumps"

Install a Media-Defined and Video-Data-Pump bundle on as many additional AIX machines as desired. Then increase the number of data pump licenses.

See Chapter 4: "Installing VideoCharger on AIX: Registering VideoCharger on AIX"

Register VideoCharger.

See Chapter 6: "Initially configuring VideoCharger on AIX: Configuring VideoCharger for a firewall"

Configure VideoCharger for a firewall.

See Chapter 8: "Troubleshooting VideoCharger on AIX"

Troubleshoot VideoCharger.

See Chapter 7: "Setting up translated VideoCharger supplements on AIX"

Set up the man pages, Web pages, or publications that match your language.

See Chapter 14: "Integrating the VideoCharger AIX Multimedia Archive"

Install the Media-Defined and Video-Archive bundles on the AIX machine that meets the requirements.

See Chapter 18: "Integrating VideoCharger in a Tivoli environment"

Set up the Tivoli resource models.

See Chapter 17: "Integrating VideoCharger Extender for DB2 Universal Database."

Install the avs.db.db2 and avs.db sample filesets into your DB2 machine, and enable the VideoCharger Extender.

See Chapter 16: "Integrating Content Manager Version 8.1 with VideoCharger"

Use the Content Manager system administration client to add the VideoCharger Server to a resource manager.

See Chapter 16: "Integrating Content Manager Version 8.1 with VideoCharger"

Use the Content Manager system administration client to add the AIX Multimedia Archive to a resource manager.

Key
- Decision point
- User action
- Planning and Installing Enterprise Information Portal

CQ04CNA