Order Capture Business Component Version 1.1

IBM Order Capture Business Component Version 1.1 is a WSBC Advanced Component. It captures new sales orders and line item information from a front-end system. This CD also contains an Order Capture sample that demonstrates how a front end application interacts with the Order Capture AC, and with the Product Catalog and Customer Profile ACs included on the IBM WebSphere Business Components Studio Version 1.1 CD.

The green text represents changes that were made to this document after the Order Capture Business Component Version 1.1 CD was created.

Notes

Installation and deployment dependencies on WSBC products

Order Capture has a development installation dependency on WSBC Studio and a deployment dependency on Version 1.1 of the AC Services, Product Catalog AC, and Customer Profile AC.

Installing Order Capture

For information on how to install the Order Capture Business Component, see the oc_install.pdf file.

For current information

The most current information for Order Capture is available at the WebSphere Business Components website at ibm.com/software/components/support.html.

Known limitations and issues

The Repair option for the Order Capture Maintenance Setup may delete some configuration files on the system. To avoid this problem, use the Modify option in the following way to duplicate a repair:

1. Open the Order Capture Maintenance Setup. Click Next to get the Welcome screen where you can select to modify, repair, or delete the program.

2. Select Modify.

3. Deselect the Sample and Premier Component files.

4. Click Back.

5. Select Modify.

6. Select the Sample and Premier Component files.

7. Click Next and then click Finish.
