He is Past President of the International DB2 Users Group (IDUG), co-author of the IBM V8 and V7 z/OS DB2 Administration Certification exam, co-author of the IBM Business Intelligence Certification exam, former instructor for The Data Warehouse Institute (TDWI), former editor of the IDUG Solutions Journal and a member of IBM DB2 Gold Consultant program. He implements architecture, configuration, database design and SQL performance tuning solutions that have saved his clients over $12 million on the mainframe, UNIX and Windows environments in only the last three years.

In addition to his consulting assignments, Dave currently teaches several educational classes:

- Data Warehouse Design and Performance
- Introduction to DB2 Data Sharing
- How to do a Performance Review for DB2 on LUW
- How to do a Performance Review for DB2 on z/OS
- Performance for Java Web SOA DB2 Environments

These classes incorporate Dave's consulting experiences tuning some of the world's largest, busiest and complex web and client databases on DB2 z/OS, UNIX and DPF platforms.

In addition to his teaching and consulting assignments Dave and Pragmatic Solutions architected, designed, and developed a metadata analysis repository product Syspedia (www.syspedia.com). Using 100% Java, Syspedia provides in-depth metadata analytics, cross platform and cross referencing of business rules and detailed element level data flows. These Syspedia capabilities provide the ability to quickly research, understand and relate their cross platform data concepts, elements, and business interaction through a simple intuitive web interface.

Skills: Lester Knutsen is a web developer and database consultant with over 20 years of design and development experience. He started developing databases with Informix Software when it was first introduced in 1983. Currently he designs and develops web-based database systems in IBM Informix and DB2.

Lester Knutsen is responsible for the design, development and deployment of successful financial data warehouse(s) for the Bureau of Land Management, and the Farm Service Agency. The Bureau of Land Management, Management Information System was one of seven finalists (out of over 100 nominated) for 2002 US Presidential Quality Awards. The Farm Service Agency Financial Data Warehouse was awarded the 2002 Brio Achievement Award (Co-sponsored by Forbes, Computerworld, and Intelligent Enterprise magazines) for the best Government Solution. These two web-based data warehouses are actively used on a daily basis by thousands of staff in field offices across the US Lester has also designed and implemented and five financial web-based data warehouses for the U.S. Department of Agriculture in IBM DB2. Lester is responsible for the design and development of the web-based Collections and Billing System used by the Bureau of Land Management in over 300 offices around the country to process over $400 million in cash receipts for the US government.

Lester Knutsen certifications include IBM Specialist - DB2, Informix DBA, Brio Software Trainer, and Computing Technology Industry Association Certified Technical Trainer. He teaches Informix DBA and Performance Tuning courses, Advanced SQL courses, Data Warehousing and Dimensional Modeling Courses, and Brio Software Advanced courses. He has been a speaker at many IBM and Informix User Conferences and his presentation on "Exploring the Sysmaster Database" has been popular at user group meetings around the country since it was first given in 1997. Lester is widely known in the Informix community for his experience and teaching skills. In 2001 he was awarded the IUG Directors Award for his work in the Informix community.

Skills: MQSeries DCP offer expertise in MQSeries architectural design, topology layout, development, testing, deployment and performance tuning of large or small MQSeries installations.

DCP has experience with the following platforms: OS/390, HP-UX, Sun Solaris, Windows NT/2000 and HP3000. DCP can also provide enterprise-wide MQSeries monitoring design, development and deployment to ensure that your MQSeries environment runs smoothly. In addition to consulting, DCP offers several on-site classes that cover MQSeries administration, programming and troubleshooting along with advanced topics such as MQSeries clusters and message routers. MQSeries programming is taught using the C, Java and Cobol programming languages. WebSphere: DCP offers consulting services for implementing WebSphere Application Server on OS/390 and Windows 2000.

DCP can help get your environment installed and your development staff up to speed with Java development using WebSphere Studio and Visual Age for Java. DCP offers assistance with the layout of your WebSphere development effort using Java servlets, Java Server Pages and data access beans. DCP can also help with access to existing CICS applications using the CICS Transaction Gateway in conjunction with WebSphere Application Server.
