

Customer Presentation Proposal Form

Customers who deliver a presentation at one of the UserNet events will receive a 50% discount on attendance to the Information OnDemand 2011 conference. This offer is transferrable within an organization which means that if the person presenting is unable to attend IOD, someone else from their organization may use the discount instead. Please note that only one person per breakout can earn this discount, therefore, if an organization has more than one person presenting a single breakout, this offer will only be awarded to one of the presenters. Breakouts will be 50 minutes in length including any Q&A and since partners have an opportunity to present seperately, they should not participate in customer presentations.
