ITIL Defined

The Information Technology Infrastructure Library (ITIL)[®] is a framework of IT Best Practices defined in a series of books.

- ITIL documents industry best practice for IT Service Management
- ITIL is gaining worldwide momentum as an industry best practice for implementing key systems management disciplines.
- A list of the ITIL books can be found at:

What is the itSMF?

The IT Service Management Forum (itSMF) is the only internationally recognised and independent organisation dedicated to IT Service Management. It is a not-for-profit organisation, wholly owned, and principally operated, by its membership.

The itSMF is a major influence on, and contributor to, industry "best practice" and Standards worldwide, working in partnership with a wide range of governmental and standards bodies worldwide.

Formed in the UK in 1991, there are now national chapters in an ever-increasing number of countries.

What are our aims?

- To develop and promote industry best practice in service management
- To engender professionalism within service management personnel
- To provide a vehicle for helping members improve service performance
- To provide members with a relevant forum in which to exchange information and share experiences with their peers on both sides of the industry

Who are our members?

Approximately 80% of the membership represents organizations striving to implement and sustain high quality IT Service Management solutions, with the remainder being organizations providing products and services to assist in those endeavours. Organisations range from large multi-nationals through small and medium local enterprises to individual consultants and cover both the public and private sectors.

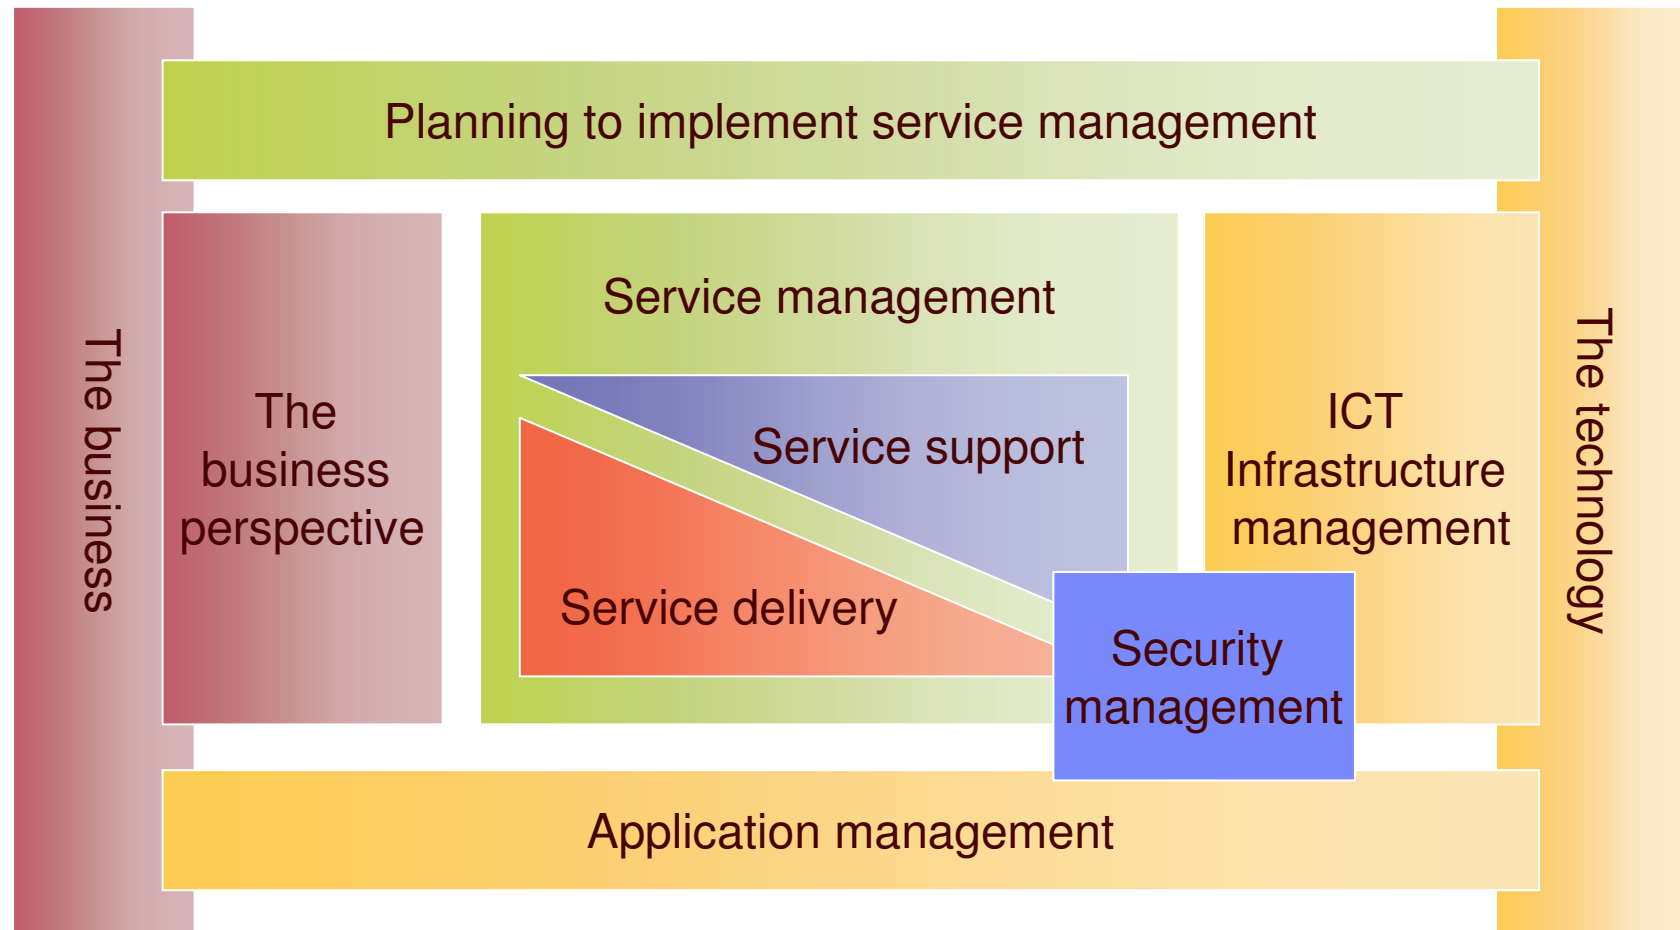

What do we offer?

While, broadly speaking, all chapters offer very similar services, the range and sophistication does vary according to the

Description

The steps involved in this activity are the following:

1. The Change Manager schedules the RFC to be considered for approval. The approval will be according to the priority and categorization of the RFC, since different approval procedures may be used according to priority and category.

IBM Tivoli's Strategy

1

Continue investing in a broad and deep set of IT infrastructure management products that automate IT tasks

2

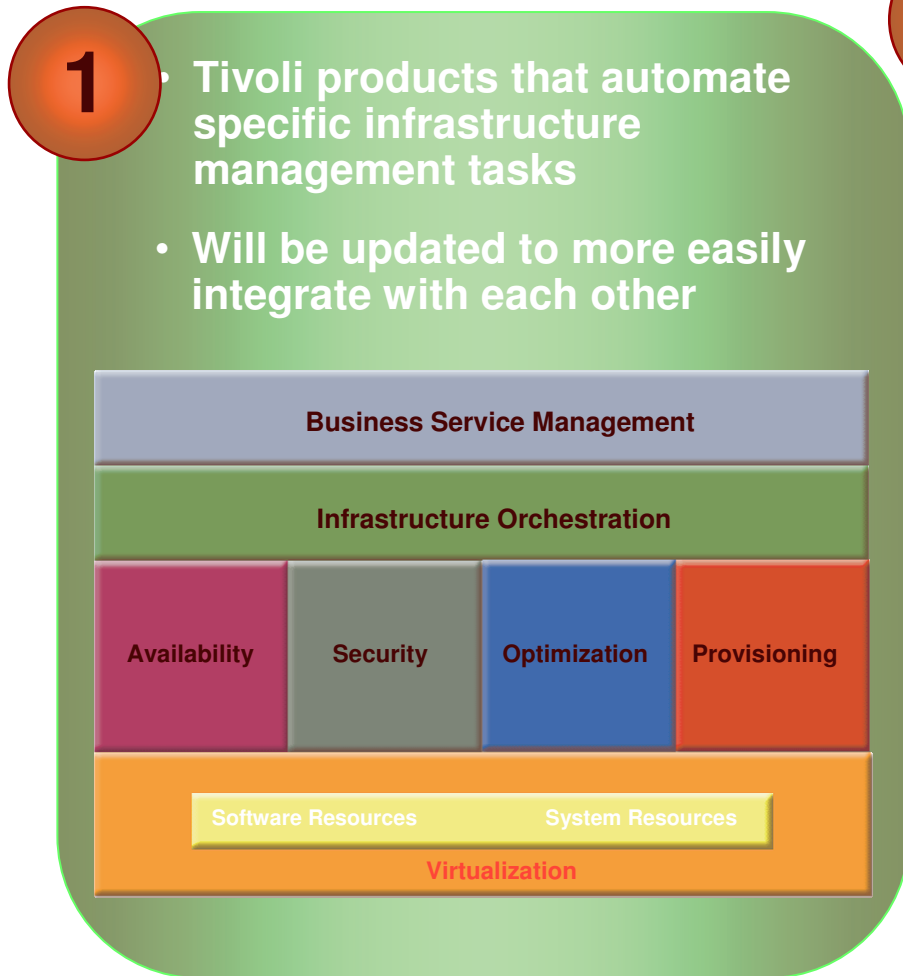

Invest in a platform that enables the automation and integration of IT processes

3

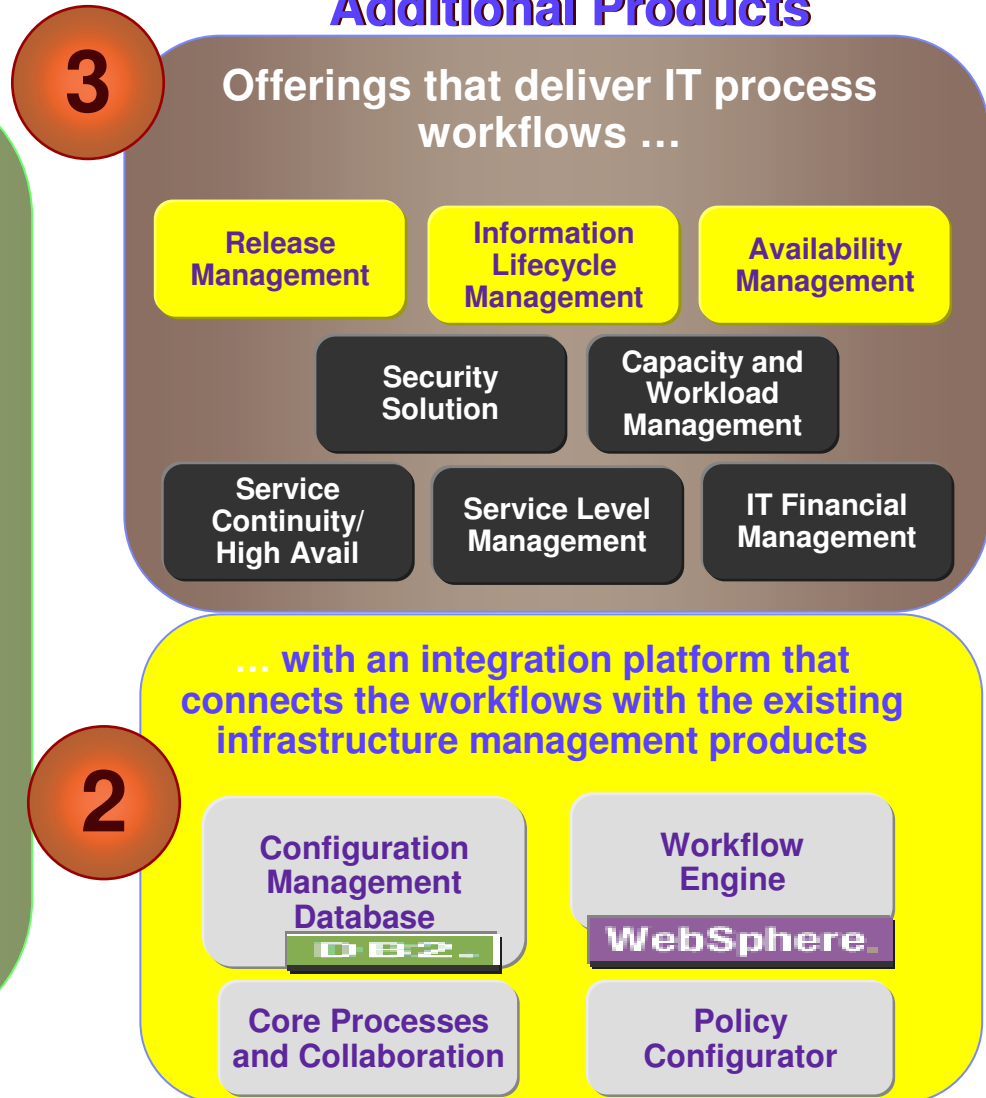

Deliver a new set of process automation products based on best practices – that leverage a customer's existing investment in IBM Tivoli Software products

Leveraging IBM's On Demand Structure

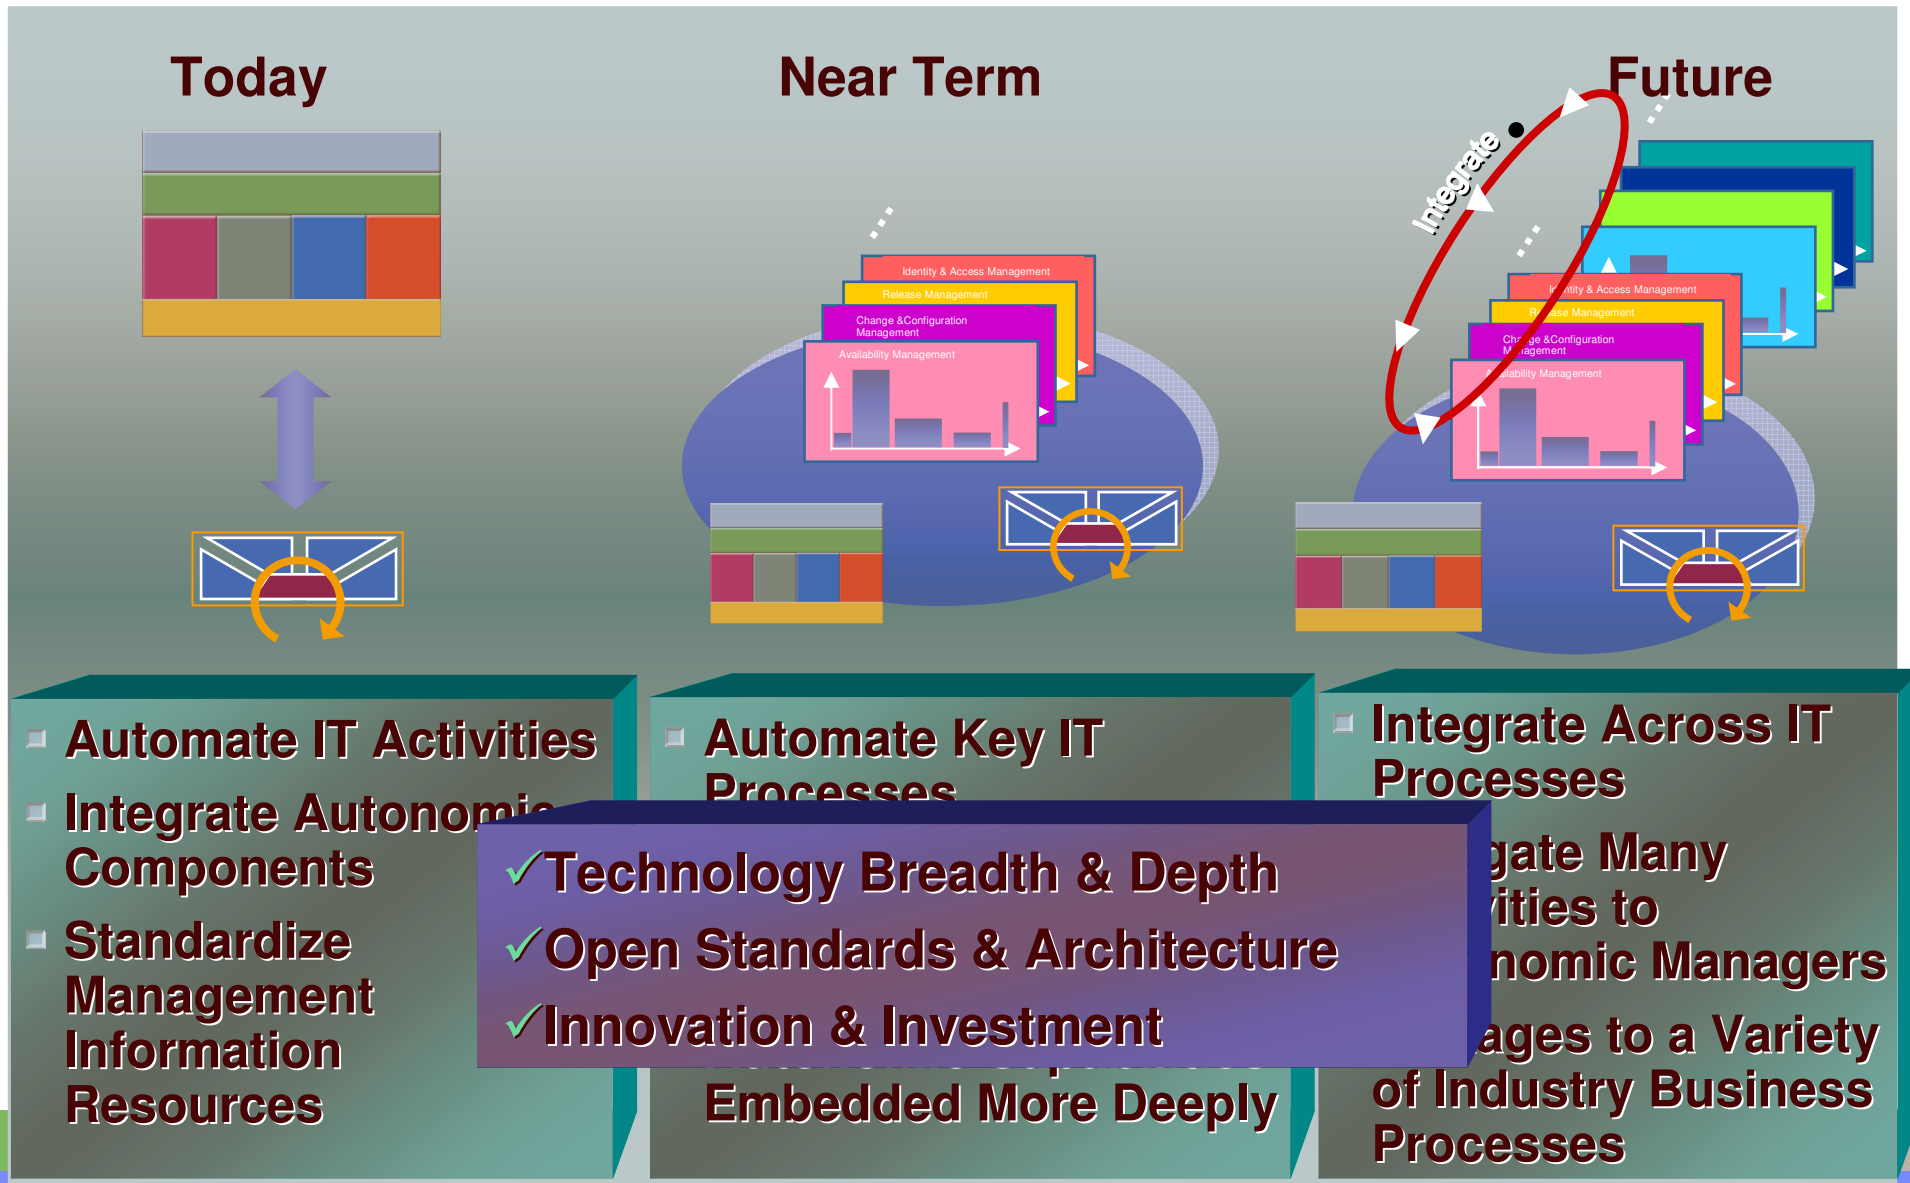

- A process automation offering makes a customer IT process more efficient and effective, and consists of:
 - A set of 2 or more products
 - Workflows running on WebSphere Process Choreographer
 - Linkages to a CMDB

Un Ecosistema abierto al resto de Proveedores

- Los Procesos se integrarán para todos los vendedores de herramientas
- Los Datos se integrarán y gestionarán a través de CCMDB
- La Automatización de Procesos se extiende a través de los límites anteriores
- Open Process Automation Library (OPAL)
