by Kit Maloney

Hundreds of customers from around the world visit the Raleigh Executive Briefing Center each year to see the latest trends and demonstrations for xSeries Servers and BladeCenter. Come and see a one-hour overview of what these customers are seeing. We'll overview the product line and highlight those things that are most interesting to customers. We'll show demonstrations of new software technologies - IBM Director, VMware, Workload Manager, RDM, etc. In addition we'll have some examples of our latest hardware on stage to show you how we demonstrate it in Raleigh. We'll also point out which breakout session you can attend to get more information these technologies here at the xSeries Technical Conference.
