Stop Escalating IT Security Costs

Tivoli enables you to reduce the complexity of security administration and lower help desk costs. You can simplify the management of each aspect of security, from identification and reduction of security threats to resource provisioning for users. A single interface allows you to manage security across multiple operating systems and platforms.

Consistently Enforce Security Policy

The Tivoli solution takes your written security policy and translates it into enforceable actions. By monitoring and controlling all aspects of your security simultaneously, you can be sure of consistent enforcement. Further, your security policy updates can be implemented automatically, eliminating the time and cost of a manual update across platforms.
