You're invited.

Join a select group of innovators who are leading in the cognitive era at World of Watson.

We've seen you disrupt every industry and profession, leveraging a sea of data as the fuel and the result of digital transformation. Engage and inspire others to follow your footsteps in building a better future together.

A new world awaits at World of Watson. That new world is now.

Welcome home.

Today's industry leaders recognize the gap in their digital capabilities. Show how cognitive business is where digital business meets digital intelligence at World of Watson.

Lead the charge in re-imagining what's possible.

Share how you are creating knowledge from data to expand everyone's expertise, continuously learning and adapting to outthink the needs of the market as a cognitive business. Show how attendees can do so too, with you as their trusted partner.

Don't settle for ordinary. Build a world to outthink limits.

The four pillars

World of Watson is framed around the four pillars of a cognitive business. Each pillar offers a unique experience and layers new insights that enables attendees to lead in the cognitive era.

Business leaders know that digital transformation is key to growth and innovation. Demonstrate how your solutions and services – coupled with Watson capabilities – combine digital intelligence and digital business to help businesses lead in the cognitive era.

Prove how your business can help data professionals uncover unexpected insights and put them into action. Reach new clients and find new opportunities in data science, data and content management and information governance. Showcase your innovative solutions, such as those built on Watson Analytics, that feature new data types like weather and Twitter.

Share how your business employs cognitive commerce, the Internet of Things or Collaboration to transcend limits. Showcase tools and solutions that expand everyone's expertise, supporting makers and movers in improving their craft across industries.

Express how your business can empower attendees to be influencers with the application of intelligent APIs. Build relationships with enterprise developers, entrepreneurs, IT professionals and academics – positioning yourself as a leading innovator in the developer's world.

Badge Overview

Full Conference

Grants full access.

Sponsors can purchase additional badges in their contract at a rate of $1,895.

Cognitive Experience Only

Grants access to everything except Micro Sessions (breakout sessions), Hands-on Labs & Certification. You can attend T-Mobile Arena events, concert, meals and Cognitive Concourse.

Sponsors can purchase additional badges in their contract at a rate of $895.

Sponsorship + Co-Marketing Funds

All sponsorship packages (Diamond, Platinum, Gold, Silver, Bronze, and Innovation) qualify for Software Co-Marketing funding; Marketing + Promotional Opportunities (MPOs) and Sponsorships at Toshiba Plaza do not qualify for Co-Marketing.

Co-Marketing is a reimbursement offering. For IBM conferences, the Business Partner purchases the sponsorship package up front and is reimbursed for qualifying expenses by IBM after the conference. All requests for Co-Marketing funds require IBM approval and are subject to available funding.

Cognitive Business Pillar

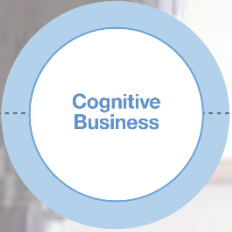

Cognitive businesses think collectively and respond in whole new ways to the market.

Business leaders know that digital transformation is key to growth and innovation. Demonstrate how your solutions and services – coupled with Watson capabilities – combine digital intelligence and digital business to help businesses lead in the cognitive era.

Are you helping organizations converge digital businesses with a new level of digital intelligence?

Make your mark in Cognitive City.

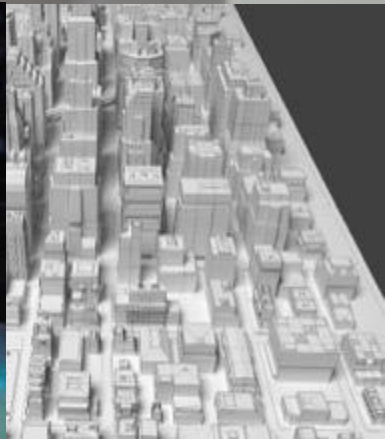

Imagine...

Every aspect of human life can be impacted by cognitive. Bring this to life in a 3D cognitive cityscape, where each movement, interaction and destination can understand, reason and learn. As attendees take a tour of Cognitive City, AR-enabled touchpoints show how cognitive is impacting real-life institutions.

You've entered Cognitive City.

Sponsors in this pillar fold into the cognitive cityscape, showcasing their cognitive solutions built for the future.

Data Pillar

Cognitive businesses access and use all types of data.

Prove how your business can help data professionals uncover unexpected insights and put them into action. Reach new clients and find new opportunities in data science, data and content management and information governance. Showcase your innovative solutions, such as those built on Watson Analytics, that feature new data types like weather and Twitter.

Are you helping leaders develop the data they possess, the data outside their firewall and the data that's coming?

Head into the Data Forest.

Imagine...

One bit of data may leave us in the dark, but a forest of data illuminates game-changing insights. Progress attendees through a journey of data exploration and reveal to help them see the forest for the trees.

Explore the Data Forest.

Sponsors in this pillar serve as knowledge-sharing touchpoints – each illuminating new ideas that fuel innovation with data science and advanced analytics.

Stop Hunger Now

$15,000

Two (2) Opportunities Available

Join IBM and Stop Hunger Now, a global humanitarian organization, to sponsor this Charity Event and pack 200K meals to feed hungry children around the world. Located within the Cognitive Concourse and open during Cognitive Concourse hours, a big participation draw in the past has been “team challenges” where groups compete to determine who can pack the most meals! Traditionally, 15% of attendees volunteer at least 30 minutes to pack meals at an IBM conference.

Sponsorship includes logo/sponsor acknowledgment on:

- Conference website
- Conference guide
- Printed Cognitive Concourse map
- Keynote walk-in screens
- Stop Hunger Now onsite signage
- Stop Hunger Now onsite promotions
- Stop Hunger Now (SHN) Logo Mark provided for your own promotional use

*Additionally, you will have the ability to provide a T-shirt or other giveaway with your logo to thank participating attendees

IBM has the ability to change charity event, but inclusions will remain comparable.
