3. How to contact IBM Rational Software Support

Transition to IBM Rational Software Support

Starting on Monday, September 3, 2012, please contact IBM Rational Software Support for all your Green Hat product support and license fulfillment needs.

PLEASE NOTE:

1. Your company must have an active maintenance subscription agreement to access IBM Rational Software Support.
2. Please communicate your IBM Customer Number (ICN) to all end users who need to contact IBM Rational Software Support. The ICN is used in our IBM entitlement systems to validate your support. Your end users must provide your ICN to access support.

Notice to Customers with Open Green Hat Support Cases

To ease the transition, customers with Green Hat support cases opened prior to September 3, 2012 will have their MGH cases migrated into the IBM Support system. A problem management record (PMR) will be created for you and IBM will communicate the new PMR# to you.

No new cases will be accepted via Green Hat support channels starting on September 3, 2012. For more information, please discuss your specific situation with your Support Engineer.
