

Panel: Can Geographically Distributed Development be Agile?

Anthony Kesterton
akesterton@uk.ibm.com

IBM Rational Software Development Conference 2008

WHERE TEAMS ARE R-HEROES

Welcome to this Panel Discussion

Goal

Understand how Agile techniques can be applied to geographically distributed development (GDD)...and have fun

Format

Introducing the panel

Opinions on the topic

Audience questions and experiences

Panel Summary

Session Summary

Some questions

What is Geographically Distributed Development (GDD)?

What is Agile (keep this short!)?

Why has GDD been seen as “heavyweight”?

What is the panel’s experience with Agile and GDD?

Are there specific kinds of projects that work in Agile GDD? And that don’t work?

What techniques associated with Agile practices work at when GDD is involved?

What Agile techniques fail in GDD situations?

How can you get started with Agile GDD?

And now let's introduce our panel...

Questions

Summary

Other sessions on Agile at RSDC UK 2008

PPM04, PPM05

P02, P03, P04,

AM01, AM02, AM04, AMLAB01

CRM08

Please come and talk Agile at the Jazz Cafe!