How will your business grow?

Steady and predictable?

Or in sudden bursts of opportunity?

As your business grows on the outside, the IBM System z10™ Enterprise Class provides the IT scalability and flexibility on the inside.

With up to seventy percent more capacity, a choice of 100 capacity settings and three times the memory than the largest System z9 mainframes – the z10 EC helps provide the IT resources and the flexibility for future business growth.
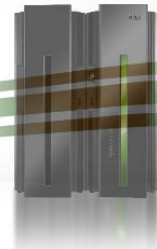

And for sudden business spikes, the z10 EC has updated capacity on demand features to upgrade resources on the fly to help deliver the right capacity at the right time.

The "shared everything" design of the z10 EC provides the capability to run at up to 100% utilization to help you get the most from your IT investment.

Think beyond today - enable your business growth tomorrow.

The Future Runs on System z.
