

IBM Hyperconverged Systems powered by Nutanix

Attention: Ensure that all Nutanix license provisioning has been completed before installation.

- If a contact at your company has not received an email from Nutanix with the subject line "License Provisioned", send an email to Nutanix at ibm_orders@nutanix.com with the following information.
 - Serial numbers
 - End user company name (asset owner who owns title to the product)
 - End user contact name
 - End user contact phone number
 - End user contact email address
- Once the "License Provisioned" email has been sent, proceed with the following steps.
 - To activate your license, logon to the Support Portal (portal.nutanix.com).
You are required to enter support contact information. This contact information is used to contact you if support is required and you agreed to receive automated alerts.
 - For additional information regarding license activation, go to Nutanix Product Support (www.nutanix.com/support)
 - For specific features, functions, and a full product description, go to Nutanix Products (www.nutanix.com/products)
 - The ordered product and your use is subject to the Nutanix End User License Agreement (www.nutanix.com/eula)
